North Carolina Laws & Initiatives

Good Samaritan Law

- Protects people who ask for help from 911, the police, or EMS because they or another person is having a drug overdose.
- People cannot be charged if the police find small amounts of drugs or drug paraphernalia because the person was asking for help for an overdose.
- People on probation or parole will also not get in trouble if police find small amounts of drugs or drug paraphernalia on them when they are trying to get help for an overdose.
- People who seek help for someone having an overdose must give their own name to 911 or to the police who come to help.

Strengthen Opioid Misuse Prevention (STOP) Act of 2017

- Signed into law by Governor Roy Cooper to prevent and reduce prescription opioid misuse and reduce excessive or otherwise inappropriate opioid prescribing.

Narcan Access Law

- Protects people who give Naloxone to someone who is having a overdose. If, in good faith, they think the person is having a drug overdose and they use reasonable care to give the naloxone, they are protected from a lawsuit for giving the person naloxone.

Legal Syringe Exchange

- Syringe exchange programs became legal in North Carolina on July 11, 2016, when Governor Pat McCrory signed House Bill 972 into law.
- Under H972, no employee, volunteer, or participant of the syringe exchange can be charged with possession of syringes or other injection supplies, or with residual amounts of controlled substances in them, obtained from or returned to a syringe exchange.
